

Email

Looking to get a document or photo emailed, even if you just need to send an email?

If you need to email a file too large to be attached, we can store it on our web server. Then you can insert a link to the file so that your recipients can download that file directly to their computer. Remember to ask to receive digital versions of your documents via email.